

It's a long way from home to the six major fronts where American soldiers, Marines or airmen are in action. Map shows distances as the crow flies; actual sea or air routes are much longer. The Navy, of course, is fighting in practically all of the world's waters.

Gas Rationing for Entire Nation New Order Rubber Czar

Fuel Oil Supplies to Home Owners To Be Reduced 25 Pct.

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—Rubber Czar William M. Jeffers sent the limit today and ordered nationwide gasoline rationing to take effect.

In his first public order since issuance of the special rubber committee report, Jeffers directed the Office of Price Administration to extend to the entire country the same restrictions now enforced in the east.

"This is a game," he said, "in which we can all win, or all lose." The date upon which the order will become effective, probably at or before Nov. 1, was left undetermined and Price Administrator Henderson will decide whether the basic 4-gallon weekly limit will prevail throughout the United States, as it does in 17 eastern seaboard states.

At the same time Jeffers appealed to drivers to heed the 35-mile an hour limit recommended last week by the committee headed by Bernard M. Baruch, which went into the whole rubber rationing.

Jeffers was granted wide powers to save the nation's supply of vital war material, and his directive appeared to settle the question whether the OPA or the office of Defense Transportation could control the program.

Jeffers said:

- 1—The Office of Price Administration is hereby directed and authorized to institute nationwide gasoline rationing on the same basis as the gasoline rationing program now existing in the eastern states.
- 2—It will be understood that under the installation of a nationwide gasoline rationing, the Office of Defense Transportation will renew the program from the standpoint of its effects upon the transportation service of the nation.
- 3—The existing arrangements between the ODT and the OPA relative to rationing for commercial vehicles in accordance with general order ODT No. 21 will be continued and extended throughout the nation.

The order referred to imposes a limit and minimum load restrictions on 5,000,000 commercial vehicles, under "certificates of necessity."

In a statement accompanying the directive, Jeffers said that by speeding down to 35 miles an hour, gasoline consumption must be decreased and tires saved.

Under Coupon Plan

"It will make possible for you to keep your automobile rolling when you actually need it," said Jeffers. "and that's important to you remember that until we have enough rubber for military and for essential civilian uses there won't be any for new cars for you."

The price administration's coupon plan in the east provides a ration of 2,580 miles a year 15 miles to the gallon. Supplemental rationing permits up to 10 miles a month for occupational purposes are issued also.

As the nation-wide gas rationing plan was made known, OPA officials indicated that the household oil ration will be about two-thirds of the normal consumption, in a 30-state ration area instead of the previously estimated one-fourth.

OPA said the 25 per cent reduction would give "an adequate margin of safety."

At the same time it was reported that Henderson would put off Jeffers a plan under which motorists could sell to the government any tires in excess of five each. There would be no compulsion, under such a plan.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by DeWitt Mackenzie, Wide World war analyst, is being written during his absence for a few days by Glenn Babb.)

By GLENN BABB

The axis is celebrating this week-end the anniversary of its attempt to frighten the United States into a permanent sideline position in the war to determine the character of tomorrow's world. Two years ago tomorrow at Berlin, the foreign ministers of Germany and Italy and that famous envoy of Japan, the same Kurusu who was to be found at Washington 14 months later, signed the treaty of Berlin.

They pledged to one another all possible aid, including that of arms, should any of them be attacked by a power not then engaged in the European or Chinese wars. They specifically excepted Soviet Russia from their gesture of menace. From that moment many far sighted men were convinced that the involvement of the United States in a far greater and more deadly war than that of a generation ago was inevitable. So it has been proved.

This anniversary is the first since the war became truly global through Japan's attack on the United States. Therefore the axis capitals are at special pains to mark the occasion with renewed protestations of their fidelity to one another, their generous purposes for mankind, their confidence of victory. For three days now their radio stations have blared out thousands of words on these themes.

Reckoned in thousands of square miles conquered, in millions enslaved and in booty taken, the last 12 months have brought the axis, at least its two major partners, success without parallel in the history of international brigandage. Hitler's armored columns have reached the Volga and stand a 15 minute bomber flight from the Nile. Hirohito's legions dominate an Asiatic continent of half a billion souls, swarming over nearly all East Asia, most of the East Indies and penetrating even to the island outposts of North America. It has been a year of axis triumph mitigated for the United Nations only by the recent victories of the Coral Sea, Midway, the Solomons, the halting of Rommel in the desert and the magnificent, incomparable stand of the Red army at Stalingrad.

But the little men who, at Berlin two years ago, made certain that America would fight, must feel, in spite of the maps, like Aladdin who rubbed the wrong lamp and loosed the wrong genie. The power of the greatest of these—the industrial might of the United States—is not yet felt in great measure directly on the battlefields but its shadow looms ominously over all the axis councils.

Against this background it becomes easy to understand why the Tokyo, Berlin and Rome broadcasts worked up such a hurrah over their story, to which this column was devoted yesterday, that the Japanese navy had extended its operations to the Atlantic, apparently by means of a submarine that had reached a

Farm Bloc Leaders Demand Showdown on Parity Clauses

Senate Leader Barkley Thinks Compromise Will Be Adopted

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—Farm bloc leaders insisted today on forcing a showdown next week on a proposal to jack up the levels controlling agricultural prices despite administration claims a compromise would be adopted.

Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) said that despite any "half-way" peace moves the administration might make, he would demand a senate vote on an amendment to the anti-inflation bill raising the basis of parity prices by about 12 per cent to include the cost of farm labor.

Thomas held a temporary parliamentary advantage requiring a vote first on the amendment he and Senator Hatch (D-NM) offered before a compromise proposal submitted by Democratic leader Barkley (Ky.) could be brought up for a roll call. Barkley indicated a vote might come Monday.

Conceding that the Thomas proposal might carry, Barkley said he was confident it would be supplanted immediately by his amendment. The latter would leave the parity standard undisturbed but would direct President Roosevelt to lift individual price ceilings where they did not reflect returns to the producers which took into account increased labor and other costs on the farm.

Barkley Confident

"I think we have the votes to adopt this compromise," Barkley said.

Barkley said some suggestions had been made to alter his compromise amendment to require the lifting of ceilings where they did not reflect the increase in farm wages and other costs since January 1, 1941.

He said he favored giving the price administration a free hand but Senator George (D-Ga.) contended that if some such date were not inserted, actions to life ceilings would depend entirely on the

Nipponese Forced to Withdraw From Posts in Stanleys

Allied Patrols Fight in Rain; Get Artillery Help First Time

Gen. MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Sept. 26—(AP)—Aggressive allied patrols, fighting in driving rain and aided for the first time by artillery, have forced the Japanese to withdraw from some of their advance positions in the Owen Stanley mountains north of Port Moresby, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

It was the first officially reported retirement on the part of the Japanese in this theater since they landed at Gona Mission on the southeast coast of New Guinea July 21 and launched an overland push which has been stalled for the last 10 days near Ioribaiva, 32 miles from Port Moresby.

An allied spokesman warned, however, against undue optimism, declaring the Japanese still were in force in that area and that their movement could not be considered a general withdrawal.

Another local allied success, meanwhile, was reported in the Salamaua area some 140 miles north of this battle zone. In a sharp counterattack, a communiqué said, allied patrols drove the Japanese from a position near Mubo, 12 miles south of Salamaua.

Announcement of these gains was complemented by a communiqué from the Navy Department in Washington reporting that United States Army bombers had damaged docks and buildings and scored three hits on Jap transports in attacks on enemy bases and shipping in the Solomon islands.

Jap Fighter Downed

The bombing of the transports, off Shortland island in the western Solomons, was carried out despite the opposition of 20 enemy fighters, one of which was shot down, the bulletin said.

The Japanese bases attacked were situated at Gizo island, in the New Georgia group of the Solomons, and Rekata Bay, on the northern coast of Santa Isabel island. Flying Fortresses carried out these assaults.

The Navy communiqué also disclosed that the Japanese still are holding several villages on Guadalcanal island, 215 miles southeast of Gizo and site of an important, newly-won American base.

The action on the New Guinea land front also was strongly supported by allied aircraft of General MacArthur's command, which have been subjected to almost continuous bombardment the bases supplying the Japanese spearhead at Ioribaiva.

Buna was again blasted by heavy bombers which were credited with destroying a grounded enemy bomber and silencing anti-aircraft positions. At the same time American P-40 fighters attacked Japanese communication lines between Buna and Ioribaiva.

In other widespread aerial operations Flying Fortresses braved an intense anti-aircraft barrage to bomb Japanese shipping at Rabaul, New Britain, while medium bombers attacked Dili, Timor. A direct hit was reported scored on a cargo vessel at Rabaul. At Dili two of four intercepting enemy fighters were shot down.

Allies Reported Blockading Dakar

London, Sept. 26—(AP)—The Paris radio reported last night that the "allies are blockading Dakar" and "will attack it soon," but a fighting French official here said "that's news to us" and there was nothing else to indicate a change in the status of the strategic west African port 1,600 miles east of Brazil.

The German radio has spoken frequently recently of allied designs on Dakar, but until last night there had been no charge of overt action.

In July, 1940, the Free French, assisted by the British, made an unsuccessful attempt to land at Dakar.

4 Students Killed When Truck Strikes Hay Rack

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 26—(AP)—Four high school children were killed and 24 others injured, at least six of them critically, about midnight when a tractor-trailer plowed into the back of a wagon in which they were enjoying a hayride.

State police said the dead were Betty Goldsmith, 14; Douglas Winterbourn, James Prentiss and an unidentified boy, all from Middletown.

Japanese Raid on Guadalcanal Great Show Says Writer

(Editor's note: The Navy Department at Washington, in a communiqué issued Sept. 12, announced that the Japanese, attempting to dislodge U. S. Marines from Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, had sent waves of fighter-escorted bombers against the American positions on each of three successive days. By the end of the third day, the communiqué said, defending planes had shot down 15 bombers and five Zero fighters, helping anti-aircraft in a successful repulse of the attack. The following on-the-spot story details one phase of the action as witnessed from the foxholes of Guadalcanal.)

By TOM YARBROUGH

Guadalcanal, Solomon Islands, Sept. 12—(Delayed)—(AP)—Air raids are common occurrences by now in this war, but today's Japanese raid on Guadalcanal was indeed one for the book.

United States Marines and Navy fighter pilots and our anti-aircraft gunners shot down 10 out of 26 enemy bombers and four of an undetermined number of Zero fighters which escorted them. We lost only one plane and pilot.

Apart from that remarkable score, to watch a small part of the battle from foxholes in the sandy, well worth the miles of travel to reach this island.

Some one listening on the radio which carries the pilots' running commentaries shouted, "Raiders approaching from the south." Presently a thin, white wavering line of twin-engine bombers came into sight. Guns boomed in the distance and the puffs of bursting anti-aircraft shells came into the picture.

"Too high," yelled the men in the foxholes. More puffs exploded in the sky and the men yelled again, "too low."

The bombers hummed on, their engines growing gradually louder as they came through a field of anti-aircraft fire.

Straight Into Fire

Still more anti-aircraft bursts blossomed in the sky, and then the men on the ground cheered. That round was exactly right. The bombers flew straight into it. One plane flashed into flame and dropped. Two others faltered, trailing white smoke.

But the raiders had had time to drop their bombs in one general target area. The word "general" in this instance covers lots of ground.

Only a few hundred yards at sea a crippled bomber dropped out of the pack which, by this time, had turned nose down for great possible speed and was fleeing.

The damaged bomber wasn't badly hurt, but three American fighters were there to finish it off. One fighter whirled in and made a pass, while the other two sat up there and watched. The bomber reeled and fell several hundred feet, then staggered out.

The same fighter lunged at it again and the bomber wheeled around like an addled boxer. Once more the fighter went in and the big raider nosed into the sea.

A gray geyser of water turned into flame as the bomber hit the water, and another cheer went up from the men who had jumped out of their foxholes to see the kill.

The pilot who got that bomber and one other enemy ship was Major John L. Smith, of Lexington, Okla., who is the hottest pilot here with a score of 15 enemy planes shot down in five weeks.

H. H. Hasselberg Is Dead From Bullet Wound in His Head

Texarkana, Ark., Youth Named as His Slayer by Wounded Man

Hjalmar Hasselberg, well known Lee Center township farmer, died late Friday afternoon in a Texarkana, Ark., hospital, the result of a bullet wound in the head, received early in the week, relatives in Lee county learned today. Meager details of the shooting were mentioned in last evening's issue of the Telegraph, but today details were obtained from Texarkana news sources which stated:

A general pickup order was sounded Friday by Sheriff W. E. Davis for the arrest of Curtis Jones, 19, and his attractive brunette sweetheart, Rose Jean Neighbors, 15, who are wanted for the ride-murder of H. H. Hasselberg, 46-year-old war worker, who was fatally wounded here Monday night.

The sheriff's order of arrest, issued to all peace officers and to members of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, warned that Jones was armed with a .32 caliber automatic and described the wanted man as a dangerous character. Jones is under a five-year suspended sentence for the theft of an automobile in Bowie county.

The F. B. I. was called into the case by the sheriff who said he had reason to believe Jones and his girl friend had fled Arkansas to avoid prosecution for a felony—a federal offense.

Found Monday Night

Hasselberg died Wednesday night in a hospital here of a gunshot wound through the head. He was discovered, fatally wounded, at the intersection of Tenth and Hickory street on Monday night. Half a block away between Pecan and Hickory, stood his automobile, lights on and motor running.

At Michael Meagher hospital where he was taken, he told Sheriff Davis that Jones shot him. Jones, he said, lives at 1302 Main street, and was the son of Mrs. Elize Jones with whom he had been keeping company for almost a year. Hasselberg maintained that he knew of no reason why Jones should shoot him. He said the youth fired on him without warning.

"It might have been that he wanted to steal my car," the wounded man moaned, "that's all I know."

Shortly after the shooting city police officers discovered a blood

Red Army Captures Strategic Post in City of Stalingrad

32 Counterattacks in 48 Hours Repulsed by Russ Forces

By ROGER D. GREENE

Associated Press War Editor

Victory edged further from Adolf Hitler's grasp in the 33-day-old siege of Stalingrad today as the Red armies gained fresh ground northwest of the Volga metropolis, crushing 32 German counter-attacks in 48 hours, and recaptured a strategic position within the city.

By soviet account, it was the fourth consecutive day that the German assault had been stopped cold.

Hitler's field headquarters, long accustomed to proclaim the swift fall of city after city, now focused its attention on the capture of single buildings.

"In the fight for Stalingrad, buildings belonging to the Communist party, situated near the bank of the Volga, were torn from the soviets in bitter fighting," the German command said.

Dispatches to Red Star said the Germans were wearing out and that soviet troops, fighting from street barricades, charred buildings and foxholes in the damp earth, were holding grimly.

As the tide of battle swayed back and forth from street to street, Red Star said any local gains scored by the invaders were made by "crawling across mountains of bodies and burned tanks."

Masses of Reserves

Soviet headquarters said Hitler was pouring masses of reserves into the critical zone northwest of Stalingrad and launching repeated counterattacks in an attempt to stem the Russian offensive which has gouged deep into the nazi left flank.

"The Germans are constantly bringing up reserves to this sector," the Russian command said, but it declared that three major nazi attacks were smashed yesterday with 1,500 Germans killed.

"In the Stalingrad area, fierce fighting continues," Red army headquarters announced, in its mid-day communiqué.

"In one street engagement, a guards unit destroyed 10 enemy tanks and killed 265 Germans."

The Russian midnight communiqué previously reported that soviet street fighters inside the city, "overcoming stubborn resistance, captured a valuable position and wiped out about 200 Hitlerites."

Front dispatches said the Red navy's Volga river gunboats performing "like river tanks", continued to blast German artillery, armored concentrations and troops, while range-finders posted atop two hills recaptured in the northwest directed soviet artillery batteries in shelling the grey-green invasion hordes moving up from the Don bend.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Moscow, Sept. 26—(AP)—The Russians officially announced the recapture of strategic positions within besieged Stalingrad and upon the German left flank and the roll of invasion dead was reported increased by about 3,000.

Although Red Star, the Army newspaper, pointedly pictured the enemy as still able to inch forward over his own mounds of dead, it sounded an optimistic editorial note with the message to Stalingrad's fighters that "there now exists a possibility to hold the fascists and repulse them."

For the moment, at least, field dispatches indicated that the Germans had been brought to a halt on every front of the battle of Russia.

Repeated German counterattacks against the Red army striking northwest of Stalingrad for relief of the battle-worn garrison were declared repulsed with heavy losses.

"One soviet infantry unit killed about 300 Germans and captured 200,000 rounds of ammunition," the noon, army communiqué said. "In another sector soviet troops repulsed an enemy counterattack, advanced and occupied more advantageous positions."

"In this engagement 800 Germans were killed and 10 tanks, 12 guns and several mortars and machineguns were destroyed."

Recapture of a valuable position by Stalingrad's soviet street fighters had been announced at midnight.

"In one fierce engagement," it was added, "a guards unit destroyed 10 enemy tanks and killed 265 Germans."

Heavy fighting persisted in the upper Don theatre. Dispatches said the Germans launched a four-pronged attack south of Voronezh, 300 miles northwest of Stalingrad, with one regiment striking in each direction. The maneuver was declared unsuccessful. The Russians said they

THE DRAMATIC EFFECT OF WHITE

By KATHRYN RITCHIE

The use of white against a dark background as shown in the accompanying illustrations is one of the newer decorative ideas which is in high favor today.

The walls of the living room illustrated are of a rich Van Dyck brown and the floor is covered with carpeting to match. Against this background, a white fireplace with a white-framed mirror hanging above the mantel, white flowers in white urns, an off-white shaggy Moroccan rug before the fire, produce an effect of intense dramatic interest, to which a round tea-table with a mirror glass top and a white leather pedestal, and a chair covered in white leather contribute. At the opposite end of the room a window which occupies almost the entire wall space is dramatized with very dull curtains of white celanese voile. Before it stands a mahogany writing desk and chair.

Other pieces of furniture in the room, such as a secretary and small occasional tables and chairs, are also of mahogany which tones in with the walls. The couch is covered in a beige cotton material trimmed with dark brown fringe. White lamps and shades, pictures in white frames, and small white ornaments make up the accessories of this interesting room.

In the card room adjoining a dynamic color scheme of deep regal-blue and white has been used, the walls being covered in the same pin-dot chintz as is used for the window draperies. A small love-seat is also covered in the same material, while the chairs are covered in white leather. White Venetian blinds, lamps and lamp shades, and hanging shelves are beautifully set off by the dark background. Accents of bright red are supplied in the Navajo rug woven in red, white and blue, and in two pictures framed in white and mounted on red metallic paper mats. These give the room a certain verve and sparkle.

Various small accessories, such as the porcelain figures on the mantel, white leather boxes ornamented with stars, tiny white flower pots, Chinese vases and odd little ash trays contribute a further element of charm to both rooms.

LINOLEUM NOW BEING DESIGNED FOR MANY USES

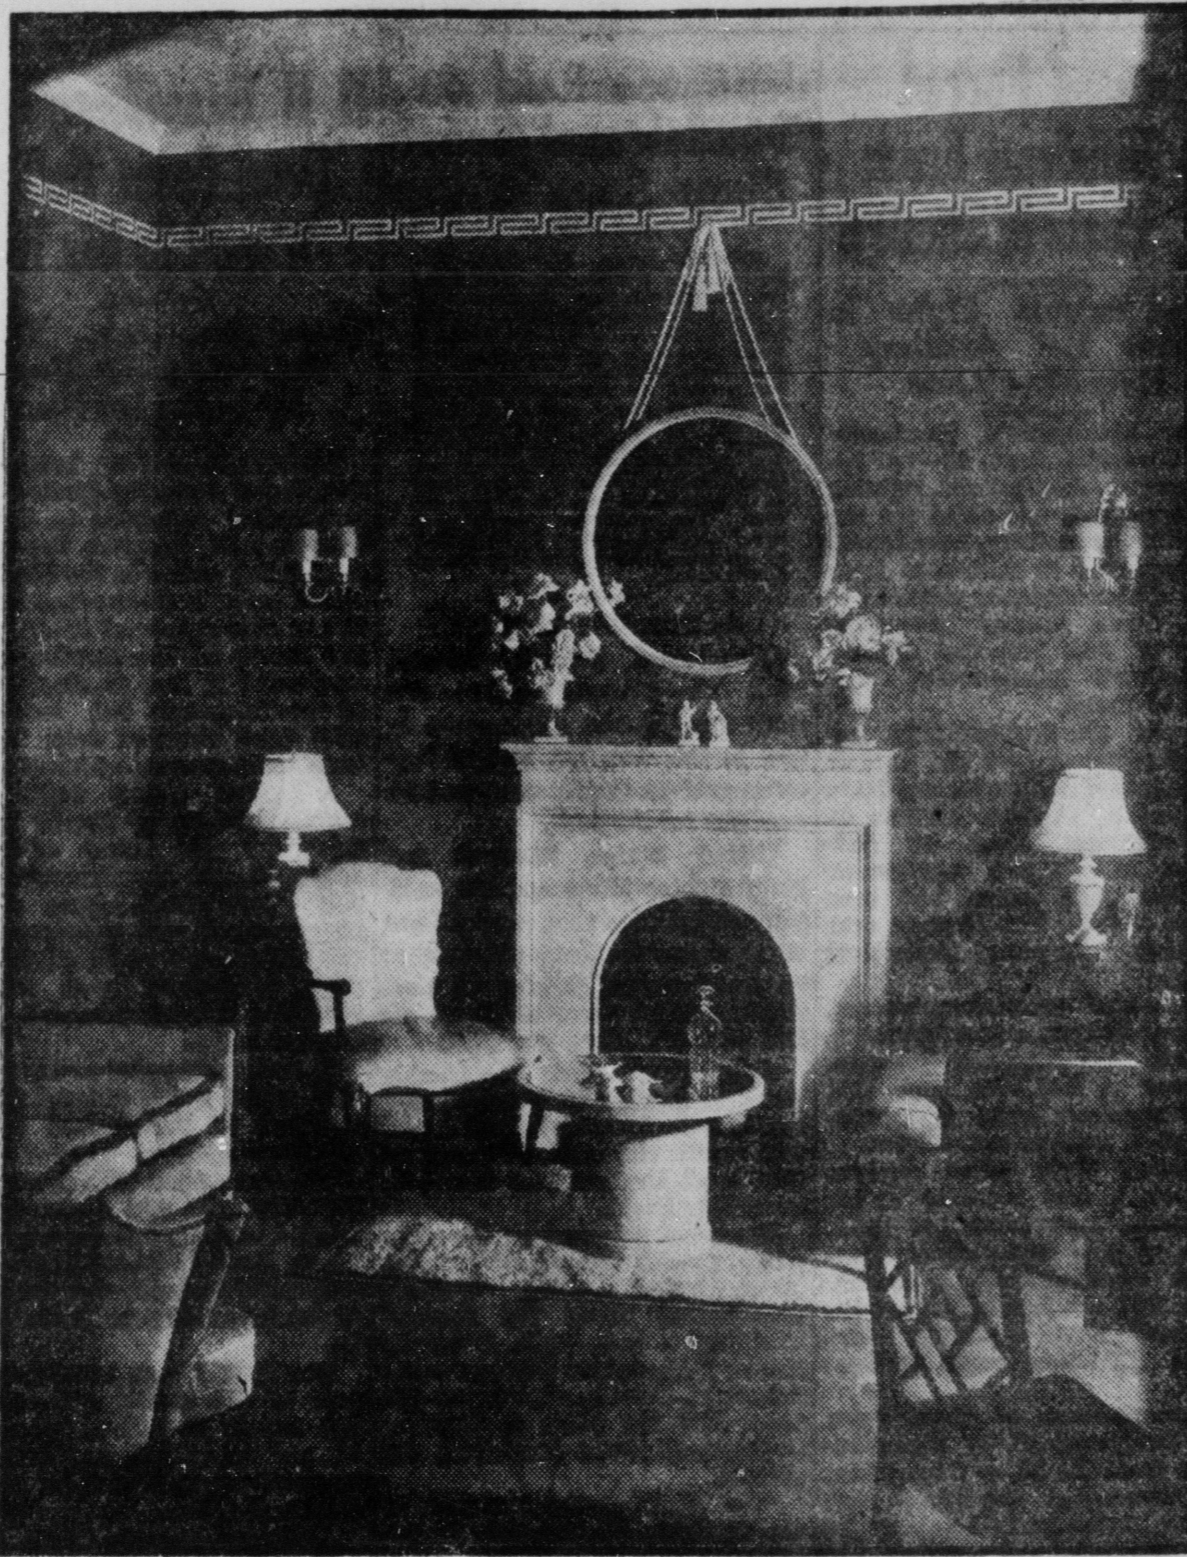

Linoleum has many uses besides that of flooring the kitchen and the bathroom. It is a material which adapts itself readily to large patterns and can be cut and fitted by anyone who is careful in the use of the knife.

For instance, the small entrance vestibule might well be floored with linoleum with a field of gray and a border of four to six inches of black or blue as a contrast.

In addition, there are now stars and other designs which may be inserted in the field by cutting out the linoleum and placing the decorative piece therein, sealing with linoleum cement.

HOMES REQUIRE BETTER WIRING

Loans May Be Made for Electrical Modernizing

Electric service offers many conveniences and comforts in the house of today. Many old houses have fallen way behind in electrical conveniences because the electrical industry has been forging ahead so rapidly in the last 10 years that the wiring is entirely inadequate for the needs of modern appliances.

Rehabilitation and modernization of your home, electrically, will do a great deal to make it comfortable, convenient and attractive and electrical modernization will also mean the achieving of real economies.

Under the FHA the home owner can secure loans to make the required electrical improvements. Thousands of home owners have already taken advantage of the plan.

The living room can be made more livable and homelike with improved lighting. But there are many other ways that electricity can make a great change for the better.

Now we have the built in radio with remote control; a built in aquarium, equipped with lights and heaters; cooling and air conditioning; electric heating and many other aids that give a room much more comfort.

Of course we must not forget plenty of base outlets which should be arranged and placed by every easy chair at both ends of a day-

Paint and Repairs Needed to Keep Out Weather

Weather will play havoc with outside woodwork and no matter how good the lumber is or how well put together the joining is, there is always a chance that the elements will find a weak spot. Then the trouble begins.

A small crack may appear at the top of one of the stiles. Repair that crack at once! It can be fixed now at little cost but if allowed to get larger, the door will soon be in danger and some day a brisk wind may swing the door out and split the stile further down so that the home owner will have to buy a new door.

Fall is the time to take care of this sort of reconditioning. Due to the extreme weather experienced from last winter's bitter cold to summer's heat, the first signs of decay may be apparent on your buildings now. Possibly a leaking roof, paint-thirsty surfaces, sagging doors and rusted sheet metal. All of these items, unless remedied at once, mean a rapid accumulation of expense.

Etta Mae Finney Becomes Bride in Takoma Park

Mrs. Mary A. Finney of 509 East Third street is announcing the marriage of her youngest daughter, Miss Etta Mae Finney of Washington, D. C., to Roderick Francis Davis of Washington, son of former Mayor Ben G. Davis and Mrs. Davis of Takoma Park, Md. The couple exchanged their nuptial vows Monday, Sept. 14, at Friendship Baptist church in Takoma Park.

The bride formerly attended Dixon and Milbank, S. D. elementary schools, and Carthage college, and was graduated from Gregg business college in Chicago. She was employed at the Greenlee Manufacturing company in Rockford until about 18 months ago, when she went to Washington to accept a position in the chemical warfare department.

Mr. Davis also has a government position, and has gained a wide reputation as a model-maker, having exhibited at the New York, Chicago, and San Francisco World Fairs.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Davis are interested in music. She is a member of the Washington Choral society and he plays with a well-known orchestra. Mrs. Harold Ross of Mount Morris, whose husband is with Kable Brothers, is a sister of the bridegroom.

The couple are occupying their recently purchased home at 1400 New York avenue, Takoma Park.

NURSES WILL BE GUESTS

Alumnae nurses, who received diplomas from Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital training school earlier this month, will be dinner guests of the Alumnae association at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at The Coffee House.

HONOR ENLISTEE

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Pittman entertained at dinner last evening for Mr. and Mrs. Wasmund. Mr. Wasmund, who has been employed as a draftsman at the Green River ordnance plant, leaves Monday to enlist as a Merchant Marine.

BRIDGE HOSTESS

Luncheon preceded the dealing and cutting of contract hands when Mrs. Grover Gehant entertained her bridge club of two two foursomes Thursday. Mrs. Orval Gearhart received the favor for high score.

Women who use stationery for social purposes will find a nice selection at the B. F. Shaw Printing Company.

OHIO PASTOR TO WED IN AUTUMN

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Meriwether Lewis of China Grove N. C. are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor, to the Rev. Robert A. Mulligan of Ohio, Ill. The wedding is to take place in the early autumn.

Miss Lewis was graduated from Montreat college, and received a degree from the Presbyterian Assembly Training school at Richmond, Va. last year. She is director of religious education in the First Presbyterian church of Valdosta, Ga.

Mr. Mulligan is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Mulligan of New York City. He completed a seminary course at Garrett Biblical Institute of Northwestern university in the spring.

PUBLIC CARD PARTY

Women of St. Agnes Guild will entertain with a public card party Monday evening in the Guild room at St. Luke's Episcopal church. Play will begin at 8 o'clock.

Miss Newcomb, Mr. Nordstrom, Will Wed Today

Wedding vows of Miss Anna Mae Newcomb, second daughter of Mrs. Frank Gates of 221 Boyd street, and William Irving Nordstrom, son of Nelson O. Nordstrom of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., will be solemnized at 4 o'clock this afternoon before the candlelit altar of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Dr. Lloyd W. Walter will read the single ring ceremony in the presence of about 40 relatives and friends.

White tapers will be lighted in which seven-branch candelabra at either side of the altar, and tall white seven-branch candelabra at pompon chrysanthemums and oak leaves, with palms in the background.

Eleanor Chapman, the church organist, will play the nuptial prelude. Her selections will include "I Love You Truly," the Chopin Nocturne in E Flat, and "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin."

The bride will be wearing navy blue sheer with ice blue trim, a wide-brimmed hat of navy felt with matching veil. At her shoulder will be a corsage of American Beauty roses. Mr. Gates will give his step-daughter in marriage.

Miss Marna Sandell of Beaver Dam, Wis., fiancée of Miss Newcomb's brother, Richard Newcomb, is to be Anna Mae's only attendant, and Richard will serve Mr. Nordstrom as best man. Marna has chosen a blue suit with a matching hat and black accessories. Her shoulder bouquet will contain gardenias.

Yellow and white appointments will be used at the reception, to be held in the church parlors. Yellow flowers and autumn leaves are to trim the center of the table. Mrs. Joyce Tuttle of Chicago, will assist in serving her sister's bridal cake, and Mrs. Steve Fleming, Jr., will preside at the punch bowl.

When "Bill" and his bride leave for a brief wedding trip to Chicago, the new Mrs. Nordstrom will be wearing a cocoa brown suit with tan and brown accessories. After Monday, the couple will be at home at 1309 Third street.

"Ann" was graduated from Dixon high school with the class of 1939. "Bill" is an alumnus of the Hancock, Mich. high school, and later attended the Michigan Tech. Since late in March, he has been employed as surveyor with the Green River ordnance plant.

Out of town guests attending this afternoon's ceremony will include Mrs. Tuttle, the bride's sister, and Miss Marguerite Nordstrom of Detroit, sister of the bridegroom.

Will Discuss Ordnance Plant- Church Program

A conference of Dixon church leaders and representatives of the Green River ordnance plant to discuss ways in which the Dixon churches may serve the employees of the plant will be held Monday evening, 7:30, at the First Presbyterian church, E. Third street at Galena avenue. Speakers will be Thomas Ryon, personnel manager of the Green River ordnance plant, and Miss Jean Ross who is in charge of the employment of women at the plant.

The conference has been arranged by the Dixon Ministerial association and by Al Jenks, manager of the public relations department of the plant. Each church is requested to send its pastor and at least two other representatives. An invitation is extended to the public to attend the conference and to assist in planning this work which is of such vital importance to our community life.

Farmers Urged to Register for Vote Tuesday, Nov. 3rd

Warned Failure to Vote May Mean Retention of Tax on Foods

Springfield, Ill.—Both Republican and Democratic organizations downstate are urging the farmers who have not yet placed their names on the poll books under the new permanent registration law, to do so at once so they may vote on the constitutional amendment proposition which will be on the ballot Nov. 3.

This proposition would give the general assembly the power to exempt food sold for human consumption from the sales tax—and the politicians believe all farmers are vitally interested in it one way or another. Thus, they say, they are using it as a lever to hoist the voters in the rural areas out of their apathy and to get them to register.

Must Register by Oct. 6
To date only about 1,200,000 voters out of a prospective 2,000,000 or more downstate have registered under the new law. And it is pointed out to the nonregistrants over and over again that they must "come in" before 9 p. m., Oct. 6—the deadline—or face a much difficult procedure if they would vote at all in the coming vital wartime election of state officers and congressmen as well as the sales tax proposition.

Downstate voters will be given their last opportunity to register under the new law now going into effect throughout Illinois, on Oct. 6, when all the 4,060 precinct polling places will be open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. In the meantime they may register at any time at the county clerk's offices in the court-houses at the county seats or in branch offices which many of the clerks have opened in other towns. But they must register if they would do their wartime patriotic duty and exercise the franchise at the Nov. 3 election.

Must Receive Majority
Attorney General George F. Barrett has made it plain that the constitutional amendment on the sales tax must receive a majority of all the votes cast. Thus if a farmer is for the amendment his failure to vote for it is tantamount to a ballot cast against it.

The political leaders say that farmers who sell direct to consumer are for the proposition, but that many more who sell their produce at wholesale may be against it. Some farmers have argued that if the sales tax on food is removed, it will result in additional levies on their land. Thus they would want to see it continued.

Many farmers so far have generally failed to register under the new law although they are being urged from all sides to do so. At a recent Springfield meeting Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, exhorted 2,000 farm bureau officials to go out and get the farmers to register. Paul Mathias, attorney for the association, explained the new registration law to them.

Republicans See Benefit
Howard Leonard, state director of agriculture and a member of Gov. Green's special committee on registration, says it is vitally important to Republican candidates for congress to get out the whole farm vote. He asserted the farmers generally are deeply resentful against the Roosevelt administration, following the President's recent radio speech.

"The farmers are angry," Leonard said. "They resent the president's attitude and they feel that he over-stepped his prerogatives. Here's why: President Roosevelt gave much time in his radio talk explaining that agricultural prices must be stabilized in order to keep down the cost of living. Then he requested congress to fix ceilings for agricultural prices, but added that he himself would fix prices for labor."

"Secondly, he issued an ultimatum to congress saying if it didn't by Oct. 1 do what he requested, he would do it. The farmers feel he overstepped his powers by the ultimatum; they say if he wants congress to fix farm prices he ought to let congress also fix the cost of living and of labor. I believe they are ready to express their resentment at the polls."

Demand Legislative Directive
Director Leonard said the Illinois farmers' attitude is a reflection of that taken by a Washington meeting of commissioners, directors, and secretaries of agriculture, out of which on Sept. 16 a statement was handed the banking and currency committee of the senate, requesting additional control legislation from congress.

Committee to Study Oil Rationing Need

Chicago, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A committee to obtain "facts and figures on the necessity of oil rationing and conversion to coal burning" was appointed yesterday after a conference between government officials and representatives of the petroleum industry.

The conference heard Robert T. Collier, marketing director of the office of petroleum coordinator, outline the objectives of the rationing-conservation plan.

Collier said coal supplies were adequate and then asserted "our aim is to save 20,000,000 barrels of oil annually from industrial users in the middle west and we hope also to save another 5,000,000 barrels from home users."

BOYS IN THE SERVICE

FROM DON GOLDSMITH
J. F. McIntire of East River road recently received an interesting letter from Pvt. Don Goldsmith in New Caledonia in which he says x x x "There are no Japs on this island yet. It's just a small island about 1000 miles northeast of Australia and is quite mountainous. Most of the people are French, but there are some Javanese and Chinese, quite a few Aborigines and 10 billion mosquitoes to every mile."

"We've been moving around the island pretty much and we've just moved to a new area along the ocean. We had to hike 20 miles to get here and my feet were plenty sore. I guess we're going for another walk tomorrow night. x x x Today (June 22) is the first day of winter and although the wind is blowing very hard and it sounds as though it's very cold outside, it's very mild. The temperature never drops below 45 degrees and then it only gets cold at night. During the day it's very hot but I still could use about three more blankets at night."

"We first went to Australia and stayed a couple of weeks and had quite a time. We were sent to Ballarat, a city in Australia, and stayed in private homes for about a week. We were supposed to stay at a camp there but they moved us out one morning about 4:00 o'clock and we came here to New Caledonia. Nothing here to drink but a little wine and it's about as sour as vinegar. They never sell any hamburgers and not much cheese. x x x "

State Salvage Committee Chairman Joins Navy

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Robert Ticken of Libertyville, who was appointed chairman of the salvage committee, Illinois State Council of Defense, by Gov. Green eight months ago, joined the Navy late yesterday.

Ticken was commissioned a lieutenant and will be stationed at Great Lakes. He will work on naval salvage in the 9th naval district.

As chairman of the Council's salvage committee, Ticken kept Illinois in the forefront of scrap metal, rubber and waste fats salvage. Under his leadership, the clean-up campaign last spring, from Egypt to the Wisconsin line, netted scrap that gave Illinois national leadership.

It was his successful direction of these activities that caused the navy to give him the salvage assignment.

In a farewell message to nearly 700 county and municipal salvage chairmen throughout the state, Lieut. Ticken urged them to "continue and increase" their salvage efforts. "In behalf of the men with whom I am going to serve," he wrote, "I urge you to carry on at home by getting in every piece of scrap metal and every ounce of waste fat that can be salvaged. It is the small bit of scrap added to millions of other bits that is important."

Red Cross Cancels Charter of Supply Ship to Far East

Washington.—Japanese refusal to allow any neutral vessel to cross the western Pacific has caused the American Red Cross to cancel the charter of the S. S. Kanangoora, neutral Swedish ship originally scheduled to carry supplies for American prisoners and civilian internees held in Japan, occupied China, and the Philippines, R. W. Sterling, chairman of the Lee County chapter, has been advised.

The vessel has been released to the owners and the supplies unloaded to be held in San Francisco until other arrangements can be made. Mail and packages for identified prisoners in Japan have been transferred to the neutral exchange ship, the Gripsholm, Sterling said.

"It is expected that the Gripsholm will sail shortly with Japanese to be exchanged for American non-combatants at the neutral port of Lourenco Marques in Portuguese East Africa," Sterling declared, adding that mail and other supplies for prisoners of war also will be transferred to Japanese exchange ships and carried to Japan where Paravincini, International Red Cross Committee delegate, will supervise their distribution throughout the Far East.

"The supplies to be carried by the Gripsholm include: 60,000 standard eleven-pound food parcels; 10,000,000 cigarettes; $33,000 worth of drugs and medical supplies; $95,000 worth of blankets and toilet articles, and large quantities of underwear, shoes and other articles, including prisoner of war relief supplies carried for the Army and Navy Departments," Sterling said he had been advised.

The Gripsholm also will carry hundreds of messages for American men reported missing after the fall of Bataan and Corregidor, but whose names have not yet been reported by the Japanese to the International Red Cross Committee on official prisoner of war lists, Chairman Sterling reported.

"The Japanese government has agreed to accept and deliver this material in Manila and other regions where there are American prisoners," Sterling said.

Supplies sent by the American Red Cross on the first voyage of the Gripsholm from New York on June 18 already have been received in Yokohama by the International Red Cross Committee delegate. Included in the first shipment were 20,000 standard food parcels, $50,000 worth of drugs and medical supplies, 1,000,000 cigarettes, 10,000 tins of smoking tobacco, and large quantities of clothing and toilet articles supplied by the Army and Navy departments for their respective prisoners. Distribution to American prisoners of war and civilian internees in the Far East is being affected under the supervision of the International Red Cross Committee.

World's highest capital is La Paz, Bolivia, which is situated high in the Andes mountains.

Nation Scrap Drive on Competitive Basis

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The newspaper-directed scrap drive has gone on a competitive basis with the War Production Board offering plaques and pennants to states and counties producing the biggest victory stockpiles.

The nation-wide contest, WPB announced last night, will be won by the three states collecting the most scrap per capita and by the counties producing 100 pounds or more per capita.

WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson will award honorary plaques to the states winning first, second and third places and pennants to the big scrap-producing counties.

A Thought for Today

Even If We Weren't at War

In a dispassionate, unvarnished statement of facts, Elmer Davis has made it clear that James Pettillo's ban on musical records is a blow at our war program—that notwithstanding Mr. Pettillo's fair statements of intention, actually he is obstructing the fight against the axis.

There are some hundreds of radio stations which could not exist without "canned music." The Office of War Information uses these stations as outlets and would miss them if they were closed.

Moreover, our soldiers, sailors, marines
and factory workers are obtaining valuable recreation from juke box music in places that could not,
by any stretch of the imagination, be suspected of financial ability to hire musicians for personal appearances.

And surely Mr. Pettillo does not expect individual families to hire name orchestras when they feel the urge to brighten up the home with a bit of syncope or a few tunes from the classics.

These arguments have validity and weight, but somehow they do not stir us as much, for example,
as the tale of the Mobile shipyard that was closed
two days because the workmen objected to paying 5 cents a day ferry toll.

We are perturbed by the strictly non-war aspects of Mr. Pettillo's ban on musical records.

Mr. Pettillo is not fighting employers who have been unfair to laborers or to their union. He is attempting, single-handed, to stop the whole progress of technology.

The complaint of Mr. Pettillo is, frankly, that mechanization, which makes music available to those who otherwise could not have it, is throwing union musicians out of work.

Assembly line methods made it possible to make an automobile with much less labor than before. Did that throw men out of work? Not at all.
It made more customers for the cheaper, better automobile, and created enormous new employment.

The same is true of every field of manufacture.
Every labor-saving invention has opened up new jobs, made possible higher pay, and given to thousands or millions the ability to have what before had been prohibitively expensive.

That is the whole secret of American prosperity. That is why our workmen get higher pay, have better homes, travel more, eat better, can educate their children.

But Mr. Pettillo is agin' progress. He won't

OF BRIGHTNESS GONE

BY HOLLY WATTERSON

BIRTHDAY PRESENT

CHAPTER XV

IT was working out, Candace thought happily, in a way that was almost too good to be true.
The big intramural dance, Martin's birthday and, best of all,
her transfer all coming at once
like this!

She had several days off before she was to start at Good Samaritan. They gave her a chance to make arrangements with Mrs.
Prosser for a birthday supper
after the dance, and to do some personal shopping.

She squandered long-saved
money on a dress she felt befitting to such a great occasion.
Candace was pleased when, at dinner, the solicitous waiter left them alone. She sat back, smiling at Martin. "What was it Peter said he had to do?"

They had planned to have dinner together, the three of them,
and some girl Peter had asked; but at the last minute Peter had sent word that he couldn't make it.

"Some case they've been following went bad," Martin said.
She leaned forward a little.
"Martin," she said softly, "I have a wonderful surprise for you. A wonderful present. We won't have to be separated any more. I've gotten a transfer to Good Samaritan."

He didn't say anything. But he didn't look moved. He looked startled. First startled, and then guarded. She saw, with a sick shock, that he was displeased.

All her happiness, all her assurance was abruptly stripped from her. Dazed with disappointment, she heard herself apologizing. "I won't hang on to you, truly I won't. If you think it might be embarrassing, it needn't be generally known that we're engaged.
I thought that with us both in the same hospital, even though we'll each be busy and won't have much time off, it will still be something just to catch a glimpse of each other occasionally."

Then, when Martin still didn't say anything, "You're not happy about it? You're not pleased?"

Martin said carefully, "I'm surprised, naturally." Nothing more.
But later, when they were in a taxi bound for the dance, he said abruptly, "Candace, there's something you should know."

With a frightened sense of impending doom she cried out sharply, "No!" Then she tried to lighten that. "You sound so serious, let's not be serious tonight—"

THE evening was a failure. No amount of pretending could save it. Peter didn't show up at all, but she never noticed. Her mind was a blank, she was sick

with this sense of foreboding.
She was relieved when Martin finally said savagely, "Let's get out of here."

They went back to Mrs. Prosser's. At the sight of the table and the cake with its candles
waiting to be lighted, Candace shivered.

Martin had felt her shiver.
"This is the damndest damp moldy place," he said. A fire had been laid and he applied a match
to the shavings and drew a rickety
chair close to the fireplace for her.
When Martin no longer had any excuse for fussing about, he said
finally, "Candace."

It's coming now, she thought.
Her shivering stopped, she sat
frozen in an icy calm.

"You remember Pete and I told you about that tea for the prospective internees? You remember we mentioned that girl, Faith Hartshorne, the daughter of the chairman of the board? I looked at a dog of hers that was sick, you remember that? Well, the girl was grateful or something and she must have mentioned it to her father and he was too and they phoned me one night and asked me to dinner."

Candace made a move as if to speak but he said, "No, wait.
Wait until I've told you—I felt
I couldn't refuse because after all
I wanted that appointment. Oh,
I know it sounds silly. But Good Samaritan isn't like most hospitals; pull counts a lot with the appointments. You wouldn't know about that." (Oh, wouldn't I,
she thought bitterly; she'd pulled some strings of her own to be near Martin!) "Anyway, Hartshorne is number one boy there, and I felt I couldn't afford to have him down on me. So I went."

He added abruptly, "I've been seeing the girl occasionally since."
The hospital tea had been months before. All this time, then—Candace said slowly, "And you never told me, Martin? Why?"

He shrugged impatiently. "Because I was afraid you'd get upset. I was afraid you'd think it was important. And it wasn't."
It was important enough to tell her now, though—important enough to have turned her gay
laughing Martin into a guilty,
hostile stranger. "But now?
Why are you telling me now?"

HE had forgotten that Peter had insisted on it; that was swallowed up in this new and embarrassing development. He pointed out reasonably, "If you were to turn up at the hospital suddenly like that, don't you see how it would look? It would look as though I've been trying to put stand for it. He would rather throw thousands of his subjects out of work than see music made available in the American way.

If there weren't a war, Mr. Pettillo still would be wrong.

Second Front Discord

The misunderstanding between Moscow, on the one hand, and London and Washington on the other,
about a second land front in Europe is distressing
but not at all surprising. It has seemed inevitable ever since the London-Washington announcement last June that the three United Nations were in agreement as to "the urgent task of creating a second front in Europe in 1942."

Obviously this was one of those matters on which the public could not be given even the vaguest hint as to details. Speculation, therefore, spread in all directions in the free press of Britain and the United States.

In Russia the press is not free. Speculation
there took the direction that the government considered wisest. Judging from reports, the Russians were given assurance that the Anglo-American forces definitely would come to their assistance by attacking Hitler from the rear—that is, from the west.

This situation and its statement involve no
criticism of the Russian course.

Quite apparently, as we now can see, those speculators were correct who considered the statement
as a weapon in a war of nerves.

To the extent that the Russians' unfounded hope for a second land front may have contributed to the doggedness with which they have resisted Hitler's hordes this summer, perhaps the statement justified itself.

To the extent to which the nazis were made uncertain whether we might be silly enough to attempt an invasion of the Continent without proper preparation or adequate resources, the strategy may have helped Russia by keeping some Reich strength
away from the eastern front for a time.

Nobody can blame the Russians, desperate as they are, for trying to induce us to come to their rescue on a second front. After all, Stalin's primary interest is in Russia—not in Britain, not in the United States, not in the United Nations, and not in democracy. Self-preservation still is the first law of nature for nations as for individuals.

By the same token, nobody can find justified fault with the British and us for not committing national suicide by invading the Continent this summer.

Starting from militarily naked scratch, with all our irritating and discouraging failures we have done a good job of arming. We are nearly ready to translate local petty-offensives into the beginning of a grand sweep that, in course of time, will destroy totalitarianism completely.

If Russia can hold out for what now will be a short while, she will be amply repaid in new fronts
—second, third, fourth and perhaps fifth.

True Words

Never, since Philip Murray attained the limelight, has he spoken truer words than he addressed to the Canadian Congress of Labor the other day, urging against "strikes calculated to injure your country."

"They will only injure your families and your unions," he added.

If that generalization could be applied by American Labor in every specific dispute, the cause of unionism would benefit.

NEWS
BEHIND
THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction
in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Sept. 25.—Most significant political remark of the year was made by Mr. Roosevelt's alter ego, Harry Hopkins, in a New York speech.

He said the test in the election of congressmen this year should not be whether the candidates are Republicans or Democrats, but whether "they want to win the war."

That statement pushed into the ash can the spring primary campaign to make the test on whether a legislator supported the president's foreign policy before Pearl Harbor.

It signified the end of the movement to purge isolationists,
or to make domestic political hay
out of the war situation.

It put the current congressional campaign officially on a ground advocated persistently and with precisely the same words in this column while the purge flurry was on. It makes the test of loyalty a valid one:

"Do you want to win the war?"

The political confusion in the public mind likewise seems to be settling. Reader reaction to my recent columns complaining about hates, and urging political dissenters to get into the war effort anyway, suggests that the great conflicting masses of group opinions (startled, disillusioned, and sometimes hateful at the outset)
are getting into the war groove.

While many dissenters are displeased with much recent history,
and do not intend to forget their political likes and dislikes, they have adapted themselves to earnest support of the war effort.

There is no necessity in a war
for anyone to sacrifice his political principles. He can still be a Republican, Democrat, pro-Roosevelt, or anti-Roosevelt, and yet contribute his own utmost to a cause which is obviously greater than any of these political sects.

The cause is the survival of the United States—our system, customs, religions and our ideals. To this cause every man can pledge allegiance, except the Communist or nazi, whose allegiance is not to this country, out to a foreign system.

Only that part of politics and criticism which is harmful to the war effort should be out for the duration. In essence, both politics and criticism are indispensable helps to victory.

Politics of the right sort shows
democracy is still functioning,
holds out hopes to minorities,
proves we have not become a one-man, or a one-party, country.

Criticism corrects mistakes before they become fatal. Both instill confidence. Their absence would encourage suspicion.

The criticism that hurts is the hateful, mean, destructive kind.
The politics that hurts is the personal, greedy sort. Both inspire only black defeatism, and serve
the purposes of the enemy.

But, for Americans, the overall problem which surmounts all political likes and dislikes, or political or personal hates, is to win the war.

You can love Roosevelt, or hate him. You can decry the mistakes of government inefficiencies, mismanagement, or you can smooth
them over.

But you cannot get away from the fact that the choice with which this country is now faced is the alternative of victory, or life under the ideologies of Hitler and the Japs. There is no other way out.

There are many people yet who might be called "unreconstructed rebels," a term used in the south
after the Civil war to denote a refusal to meet realistically the terms of peace.

The people in this group persist in measuring their political objections as of greater importance than the winning of the war, and are, in varying degrees,
refraining from cooperating in it.
They openly say so.

But the recalcitrant group does not seem to be sufficiently formidable to hinder the war effort in any appreciable respect, and I have no doubt that the current hopeful trend toward realism in popular opinion will be continued,
since Hopkins has indicated it will not be upset by administration acts.

Here's One Soldier
Who's Going Back to Iceland After War

Cherokee Indian 'Joe'
Finds Stulka That Suits Him

With the United States Army
in Iceland—(Wide World—Found: An American soldier who plans to return to Iceland after the war to live!)

Yes, there's a stulka (Icelandic girl) behind it. The Oklahoma-born soldier is a handsome full-blooded Cherokee Indian from Houston, Tex. Censorship prevents disclosure of his identity, so we'll just call him "Joe." That's what all these sons, brothers and nephews of the "Elmers" of the first World war are called, anyway.

Private Joe, a driver at one of the army camps, told of his postwar plans as he drove me to town in an army "jeep." Joe came to Iceland last September. For six months he's been engaged to the daughter of a prosperous operator (they've all got that way since the occupation) Reykjavik Taxi and Trucking Company.

Asked what business he planned to engage in upon his return to Iceland, Joe said he "guessed" he'd just work with the girl's father. Then, almost as an afterthought, he added casually that he "didn't have to work anyway."
—he inherited some 7,000 acres of Oklahoma oil land which brings him an income of several hundred dollars a month.

Most American soldiers stationed here are none too complimentary about the island, but to this Joe, Iceland is quite "all right."
You see, his bride-to-be is here.

With Iceland offering little in entertainment and recreation, one of the army's biggest problems is diversion for the thousands of soldiers during leisure, off duty hours. To a varied program of sports, movies, home talent productions, games, reading and singing, the Army's special service department has added an educational feature. Classes in elementary, high school and college subjects
are being organized and this winter soldiers who wish may go back to school. Text books and a large reference library have been acquired.

At last! Real, honest to goodness American hot dogs and hamburgers in Iceland! The Army and Red Cross pooled resources to provide a few mobile canteens on trucks which now call daily at some of the camps loaded with the American delicacies. Each "dog" or hamburger is sold for 65 auras
—about 11 cents in American money.

American soldiers in Iceland,
just like the folks on the home front, are becoming increasingly ration conscious. Among other restrictions, the soldier now is limited each week to two packages of cigarettes, five bars
of chocolate and six cans of fruit juice whenever the latter is available, which has been seldom in recent months. He also must turn in empty tubes when he purchases toothpaste and shaving cream
at the camp post exchanges.

Until a recent army regulation ended the practice, one company of aviation engineers used a phonograph recording machine to carry not only their messages, but the familiar tones of their voices to the folks back home. Each man was allowed to make a record every few weeks. There always was a gang of "Joes" around
the machine at recording times,
much to the embarrassment of the bashful who wished to get sentimental with messages to their sweethearts.

Add sights one never expected to see in Iceland: An Icelandic living across the road from General Charles H. Bonesteel's headquarters cutting his tiny crop of hay with a scythe while attired
only in a faded pair of blue trunks and shoes. On her knees nearby was the farmer's wife busy pulling weeds from a potato patch.
— Golf course surrounded by army camps of Nisoun huts. Sure,
they play golf in Iceland.

Deaths

Suburban—

MRS. J. K. DAVIS
Sterling, Sept. 26.—Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Kelsey
Davis, 65, who died at her home Friday after an illness of seven weeks, will be held at 2
p. m. Sunday at the Trough funeral home. The Rev. R. Norris
Wilson, pastor of Sterling Congregational church, will officiate.
Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

Born Aug. 11, 1877, in Sterling.
Mrs. Davis was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Kelsey. She was educated in Sterling schools and married Dr. John Davis on June 9, 1897. She was a member of the auxiliary of the American Legion.

Surviving are her husband; a sister, Mrs. A. A. Woodyatt, Rock Falls, and a brother, William H. Kelsey, also of Rock Falls. She was preceded in death by a son Dr. Paul K. Davis, who was a dentist in Rockford for 12 years before his death on Jan.
25, 1940, and by a sister, Mrs. E.
B. Van Horn, of Sterling.

The snow, sleet, rain, etc., of last night brought forth unpleasant memories to Messrs. Lindell, Winger, Bowers, and Sharpe, of the Dixon high school athletic department.

Last year practically every game of the Dixon Ducks' grid schedule was played in rain and mud before an absolute minimum number of spectators.

Not wishing to call forth a repetition of that dismal season, the decision was made to postpone last night's scheduled game between the Ducks and the Rock Falls Rockets.

Therefore, Monday night the two teams will meet at the Dixon athletic field at 7:15. The tilt between the two freshman-sophomore squads has been cancelled.

MAJOR LEAGUE

The Major league was the only loop that failed to show much improvement in its second night of play. Only one team, Hunter Co. (1001) could better last week's team game record—989, held by Lepperd Motor Service.

Reynolds Wire managed to tie this score in its second game. However, all the outfields but Hub Tavern, Freeman Shoes and Sunnysbrook, shattered the former series top, 2773. . . . Dixon Paint led the way with 2910; Hunter Co., 2883; Lepperd Motor Service, 2839; Sweeney & Oester, 2817 and Reynolds Wire, 2789. . . .

Al Wolfe's 233 was the only individual game total better than Daschbach's 224 of last week. . . . Van Doren, Wolfe and Nelson were the three shooters that broke the series record, 555. . . . Van had 202-148-208—599; Nelson, 166-222-169—557; and Wolfe, 170-153-233—556.

Review: Pabst, of the Green River Ordnance plant league, scored the highest game total this week, 246. . . . He was also second to Williams (607) in the series division with 592. . . . Coincidentally speaking, two other kiegles beside Wolfe rolled 233s during the week to lead their respective loops. . . . Drenner, Commercial league, and Lessner, Classic, were the other 233ers. . . .

The Round-Up's 3001 tops all the team series scores reported. . . . And Myers Royal Blue's 1058 was the highest team game total turned in.

HERE AND THERE

Pat Vella, whom the Dixon Ducks will remember as quite some shakes as a runner, beat Elgin last night in a return engagement, 18-12. Vella scored all of the East Rockford points. The two teams battled for almost four quarters a couple of weeks ago before Rockford scored a field goal to win 3 to 0.

Mendota high pushed across two touchdowns in the last period to down the Amboy gridders, 10-7, yesterday afternoon.

Gustafson of West Aurora galloped over the goal line for a touchdown and the extra point to give his teammates a 7-0 victory over Freeport.

Morris scored in both the first and last quarters of its tilt with Clinton to defeat the host team, 13-0.

Mt. Morris racked up six points in the first quarter of its match with Mount Carroll yesterday, on a pass, Krug to Hudson. That ended the scoring for the day, the game ending, Mt. Morris, 6; Mount Carroll, 0.

Polo lost the ball on downs on Rochelle's 4 yard line in the second quarter of their game yesterday and thus lost the only scoring opportunity of the match. The contest ended in a scoreless tie.

The intra-city game at Sterling last night between Community and Township high schools was called off because of snow.

GOLF FINALS

Unless the snow and rain cause a change in plans, the finals of the Dixon Country club championship matches will be played tomorrow.

Ken Detweiler will meet Wilson Dysart for the title in A flight and Gene Barrowman will play Ken Welty for the consolation award.

STONEHOUSE LEAVING

Ralph Stonehouse, pro at the Dixon Country club, is leaving Dixon, probably for the duration, Wednesday. He plans to go to his home at Indianapolis from here where he expects to enter the Army soon. Ralph has asked that I notify all the golfers to collect their belongings from the club before he leaves. Good luck, Ralph.

THEY'RE OFF GUARD

DODGERS 2 GAMES BACK OF BIRDS; DECISION POSSIBLE TODAY

Rise Up to Down Braves in Eleventh

Close Season With Two At Philly: Cards Play Cubs

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
The St. Louis Cardinals are in a position to clinch the National league pennant today and maybe it's time to start feeling sorry for the Brooklyn Dodgers—who never felt sorry for anybody when they were fighting the other clubs around and aren't wasting any time thinking about their own plight now.

Today they are two games behind with two to play and the best they can hope for is a tie that would force a point-season playoff. But they still are battling.

"They could have been eliminated either Thursday or Friday if they had lost—but they won and now days after they had been counted out of the running, they have crowded the Cardinals where the Redbirds must administer the knockout themselves. The Dodgers haven't quit."

It took 11 innings to beat the Boston Braves yesterday, but the Dodgers made it with a 6-5 score for their sixth straight triumph. Max West hit two home runs to put the heat under the Dodgers—and Dolph Camilli countered with his 26th roundtripper and Arky Vaughan came through with a clutch triple to tie the score in the eighth.

Then in the 11th Camilli led off with a single and the Dodgers loaded the bases with one out. The pressure made the Braves crack and when Billy Herman smacked a grounder, Sibby Sisti threw over catcher Ernie Lombardi's head and Camilli slid home with the winning run.

Leiber Tries Pitching
This was the 102nd victory for the Dodgers, who never in National league history had won as many as 100 games till they bagged that number to win the pennant last year. Only one other club, the Chicago Cubs of 1909, ever won as many as 100 games without earning the pennant and many championships have been won with 90 victories—or less.

What other fun there was in the National league yesterday was largely concerned with Hank Leiber, 30-year-old veteran of ten years' big league service as an outfielder, making his debut as a pitcher for the New York Giants.

The big fellow went the route in the second game of a doubleheader with the Phils, allowing nine hits and striking out four. But he walked five men, hit one batsman, made two wild pitches, a balk and an error to lose 9-1. New York won the first game 6-3.

In the only American league game the Chicago White Sox cuffed the Cleveland Indians 8-1 before only 200 fans and tossed the Tribe into a tie for fourth place with the idle Detroit Tigers.

Detroit and Cleveland, who finished in a tie for fourth last year, have a two-game series today and tomorrow and if they split will wind up in another deadlock.

LITTLE WORLD SERIES SHIFTS TO SYRACUSE

Columbus, O., Sept. 26—(AP)—The Little World Series scene shifted today to Syracuse, N. Y., after the Chiefs, International league playoff winners, and the Columbus Red Birds, champs of the American Association playoff, split the opening pair of contests here.

The Birds, after losing the opener 6 to 1, roared back last night to win by 3 to 2 as southpaw Harry Brecheen scattered six hits over four frames to best Charley (Red) Barrett in a mound duel.

CHALLEDON IS BACK TO RACES

Havre de Grace, Md., Sept. 26—(AP)—Big Red—formally Challedon—today tried for his first major purse since last spring in the $15,000-added Havre de Grace handicap.

W. L. Brann was to send Chally and his stablemate, Pictor, to the post in an effort to capture the traditional Havre de Grace closing feature, mile and an eighth test, for three-year-olds and upward, for the fourth successive year.

Eight other horses were expected to go to the post against the Brann entry.

BLIND-FOLDED WRESTLING

Iowa City — Navy Pre-Flight School here has introduced blind-folded wrestling. It has carry-over in military value to hand-to-hand encounters at night.

HOPES TO RETURN

Chicago (AP)—Hal Trosky, Cleveland Indian first baseman in voluntary retirement this season because of recurrent migraine headaches, says he has hopes of returning to action next season.

"I've shed 25 pounds working on my farm in Iowa," says the big slugger, "and I've had fewer and less violent headaches than at any time since I left high school. I've been taking treatments that have done wonders and maybe next spring I'll be back in uniform."

SUNNYSBROOK & LEPPERD MOTOR LEAD IN MAJOR

Four Teams Knotted for Third After Two Night's Play

Sunnysbrook and Lepperd Motor Service, each having a 5-1 record, are leading in the Major league, the most closely matched loop of the Dixon Bowling Association.

Four of the eight teams in the circuit are tied for third with a .500 percentage, three wins and a like number of losses.

Freeman Shoes and Hub Tavern are in the cellar, each having won only one game while losing five.

In last night's play at the Dixon Recreation, the second session of the young season, the two first placers swept their series from Freeman's and the Hub.

Sweeney & Oester won two of its three sets with Hunter Co., even though the latter finished with the higher series scoring, 2883 to 2817. Largely responsible for the Hunter score was the second game rolled, 1001, which was tops for the evening.

Reynolds Wire lost two out of three to Dixon Paint, which put together the high series total, 987-940-983—2910.

Al Wolfe and Van Doren shared individual honors. Wolfe scored a 233 in his last set for a game record, and Van Doren shot 202-148-209—559, a league series mark.

HOW TO BETTER WORLD SERIES; LET DIZZY DEAN DO 'CASTING

By BURTON BENJAMIN

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

St. Louis, Sept. 26—Loquacious Jerome Hanna Dean is not scheduled to broadcast the World Series, and the dulcet tones of New York announcers will sound mighty strange in the Missouri valley.

The Great Voice has everything in his miked delivery he had on the pitching rubber except control.

Broadcaster Dean has the same dashing color, eccentricities, confidence and popularity as his pitching counterpart, but he is wild as a hoot owl.

Dizzy Dean's adjectives break erratically. His participles dangle precipitously. His fast banter misses the cornerstones of acceptable rhetoric. He telegraphs his transitions, and a sharp ear can lambast his ad libs.

But his audience loves his earthy comments and salty humor. Their adulation rivals that poured on the hulking, egotistical rube who won 120 games and pitched the Cards to two pennants and a world championship in six years.

Had Only to Open Mouth
Stuffed in the drag role of coach for the Chicago Cubs, Diz was picked up by a Chicago advertising executive last season. He realized that the Great Man reeks color, persuaded a St. Louis brewery to hire Diz to broadcast baseball.

It was a gamble until the Great One opened his mouth. He was a hit overnight.

Diz averages 1600 letters a month, has received as many as 2700 in a 30-day period.

What brother Dean does to the king's English shouldn't happen to a Brooklyn roustabout. If Sam Goldwyn cuts corners, Dean akes hash of the house that Webster built.

His misuse of words is sincere, and his malapropisms are not affected. He has made prolific additions to what is commonly known as the English language. Here are bits of typical Deaniana: As Terry Moore raced across center field to snare a hard-hit liner, Diz said: "Well, folks, Moore sure did have to skimp for that one."

Asked if he didn't mean Moore had scampered, Ol' Diz replied: "No, sir. He didn't scamper. He went so fast that he skimpered."

When Johnny Mize was having a bad day at the plate, Diz announced: "That Johnny Mize has fanned twitish today, but he looks mighty hitherish down there now."

To Diz, the pitcher stands very confidential on the mound. He always has pose. The players return to their respectable positions.

Enos Slaughter slid into second base. Jimmy Brown was thrown out at first.

"He's great," wrote an East St. Louis businessman. "For God's sake don't teach him English."

A school-teacher begged him to quit saying "them Cardinals" because: "You have all my boys talking that way and all they tell me is that you say it."

Censorship provided a lively obstacle for Diz. One night after repeating the canned dialogue about "due to circumstances beyond our control, we are unable to continue the broadcast—" the Mouthpiece wound up by saying:

"And if you folks want to know why, just stick yore hands out the window."

Another time, he pitched this one: "Well, folks, all I gotta say is that ain't perspiration on the faces of them players down there."

He sympathized with the "pore fans who left their windows open when they come out here. The beds are sure gonna be mighty wet when they get home. I sure hope Pat (Mrs. Dean) didn't forget to close 'em."

Don't Never Bother Dizzy
Diz gets a reputed $10,000 per year for his efforts and is deluged by admirers on his personal appearance tours.

A friend asked: "Diz, don't you ever travel incognito?"

Said Diz: "Brother, I don't know what you mean."

"I mean when you want to rest,

Notre Dame to Open at Wisconsin U.

40,000 Expected to Witness Irish Unveil T Formation

Madison, Wis., Sept. 26—(AP)—Undefeated last year, Notre Dame makes its start in the 1942 football season today against the University of Wisconsin, intent on duplicating its record of the past four years in holding the Badgers scoreless.

Some 40,000 persons were expected to jam Camp Randall stadium to watch the Irish unveil a new T formation operated by pass-pitching Angelo Bertelli and a host of veterans.

Wisconsin, considered by many observers as a dark-horse in the Western Conference campaign, opened its season last week with a 7 to 0 victory over Camp Grant. Leading the Badgers' attack will be Pat Harder, one of the nation's finest fullbacks last year.

ILL. VS. S. DAKOTA

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 26—(AP)—A crowd of 10,000 was expected to watch Ray Eliot open his coaching career at his alma mater, Illinois, today by sending one of the heaviest Illinois teams in recent years against South Dakota's T formation.

Eliot, a former Illini athlete, has replaced Bob Zuppke, who resigned last fall after a tenure of 29 years.

IOWA VS. NEBRASKA

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 26—(AP)—In a game which may be a wide-open contest of speed and passing, Iowa and Nebraska meet today for the 31st time in resumption of a bitter non-conference rivalry.

Iowa of the Big Ten probably will start a team which includes four sophomores in an attempt to snap the Big Six Huskers' string of eight wins in the series. Between 13,000 and 15,000 fans are expected for the game, which is the first between the two teams to be held here since 1938.

MINNESOTA VS. PITT

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 26—(AP)—Minnesota's Golden Gophers, under the direction of new coach Dr. George Hauser and with only three of last year's regulars in the starting lineup, start their 1942 football campaign today against the University of Pittsburgh.

The Gophers, last year's Big Ten and mythical national champions, are lighter and faster this season than Bernie Bierman's recent outfits. Minnesota swamped de-emphasized Pitt, 39 to 0, in 1941 and was heavily backed to win today for its 18th consecutive victory.

INDIANA VS. BUTLER

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 26—(AP)—One of Bo McMillin's best football teams in years was a top-heavy favorite today to pen up the Butler University Bulldogs and win its first opening game in five years.

Halfback Billy Hillenbrand, heralded as one of Indiana's finest All-America prospects, was fully recovered from an arm injury and ready to make his 1942 debut before an estimated 10,000 fans.

NORTHWESTERN VS. SEAHAWKS

Evanson, Ill., Sept. 26—(AP)—Regarded as one of the strongest service teams in the country, Bernie Bierman's naval pre-flight school opens Northwestern's football season today before a turnout of 30,000, including 5,000 Navy men.

ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, Sept. 26.—Secretary of War Stimson probably wouldn't know what to do with a pair of padded mittens, but there's no doubt he deserves the heavyweight thinking championship. . . . Of all the people who had anything to do with the Louis-Conn affair, he was the only one in authority to realize that the prestige of the Army was a great deal more important than any amount of dough the fight might bring in for Army Relief. . . . And he didn't hesitate to do the one thing that was best for the prestige of the Army. . . . Now, since Rep. O'Toole has brought up the question of how the money from the Army All-Star football games was distributed, he might ask for a full statement on that—soon. . . . Pittsburgh papers give a good example of how to clear up all doubts in the report on the Bears-Steelers exhibition, which netted $5,000 for the relief fund.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR—

Robert L. Burnes, St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "One of the most familiar cries at the ball park is the one the score card vendors use: 'You can't tell the players without a scorecard.' Now, with players constantly borrowing somebody else's shirt, you have a heck of a time telling them even with the card."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE—

Pretty swell gesture of the Yanks to vote $500 series cut to soldiers Johnny Sturm and Steve Peek, who didn't toss a ball for the club this season. . . . But they'll get their reward. The reserved-seat sellout is so complete that the club's tub-thumper, Jack Slocum, reports he can't even get a pair for his "old man," who used to be one of the best baseball scribes in the business.

FREE AD—

Niagara Falls, N. Y., is urgently in need of an opponent (either college or service) for Joe Bach's Fort Knox, Ky., football team on either Oct. 24 or 25. The game will be played for the Fort Niagara Army Relief fund. . . . Today's Ohio State game will give you a line on the Fort Knox team. Then if you know a good team with an open date send word to Mayor Eugene C. Butler.

western tabbed Bierman's Seahawks as "another Minnesota" and said the game was the toughest starter in the school's history.

The Seahawks in their opening game last week crushed Kansas University, 61 to 0, but they expected no such opposition against Northwestern, one of the Big Ten's top-ranking members.

Bierman's probable lineup was composed of former midwestern college stars. The Seahawks' line will average 20 pounds per man more than Northwestern's.

MICHIGAN VS. GREAT LAKES

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 26—(AP)—The football team of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, where a high-class grid outfit was developed in the last war, opened its season against Michigan today with high hopes of doing right by a proud heritage.

The Wolverines, also opening their season, were without their brilliant halfback, Tom Kuzma, and were giving away a lot of weight. The absence of Kuzma, whose knee is injured, spoiled the fans' expectations of another duel between him and Bruce Smith, former Minnesota ace now in the Sailors' backfield.

BUCKEYS VS. FT. KNOX

Columbus, O., Sept. 26—(AP)—Outweighed at least 15 pounds per man, Ohio State University's gridders, faced a tough opening assignment today—as they met the Armorers of Fort Knox, Ky.

The battling Bucks haven't lost an opening contest since 1894 when Buchtel, now Akron University, turned the trick, but Coach Paul E. Brown was not too confident that the string wouldn't snap under the charges of the heavy soldiers.

About 27,500 fans were expected to sit in on the contest. The Bucks, with three weeks of intense training behind them, were in tip-top shape, but Coach Joe Bach of the Armorers said his crew had been together so little that he planned to introduce the players formally before the game starts at 1:30 p. m. (CWT).

PURDUE VS. FORDHAM

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 26—(AP)—Two first year coaches sat on opposite sides of the field today as Fordham, Sugar Bowl champions from the east, and Purdue of the Big Ten opened their 1942 football campaigns before approximately 20,000 fans.

Earl Walsh was guiding the Fordham Rams and Elmer Burnham was bossing the Boilermakers.

Both of the boxers were "terribly disappointed" over the turn of events, but each said, "Well, the big job now is to win the war."

"There'll be time enough afterward for boxing," Conn added. "But this is just my luck. I'm convinced I could have beaten Joe."

Were In Chicago

Mrs. Margaret Knapp and two sons David and Russell went to Chicago Friday evening and visited the boys' aunt, Miss Esther Knapp until Sunday evening. On Saturday they all attended the Riegling Bros. circus, which was a big treat for the little boys.

Entertained With Cards

Mrs. Lorraine Schmucker entertained with cards at her home Tuesday afternoon. The guests included Mrs. Drucie Banker, Mrs. Elizabeth Crawford, Mrs. Grace Breuninger, Mrs. Kathryn Herbst, Mrs. Stella Senger, Mrs. Lois Gross, Mrs. Esther Hall, Mrs. Lucy Ives, Mrs. Blanche Durkes, Mrs. Faith Craven, Mrs. Radcliff. At cards awards were given to Mrs. Grace Breuninger, Mrs. Stella Senger, Miss Esther Hall and Mrs. Blanche Durkes. During the afternoon refreshments were enjoyed.

Pay Final Dividend

Arthur C. Lueder, state auditor of public accounts announced this week that he has authorized the Farmers' State Bank at Sublette, to pay a final dividend of 15% amounting to $5,389.11 on waived deposits bringing the amount returned to 100 per cent of the original waiver.

Our attention was called to the item concerning Rev. Daniel Dierdorff preaching in the Church of the Brethren Sunday morning. The item was not completed. In the service Sunday morning was F. D. Kelley and John Gomb, both schoolmates of Rev. Dierdorff or "Uncle Dan." They attended the country school which is now known as the Mong school, east of town. It certainly is very true an unusual thing for one past 80 years of age to come back to the "Old Home Town" and find two people who were barefooted "kids" with him "Way Back When."

Recent Bride Honored

Friends were invited to the home of Miss Hazel Blume Tuesday evening for a miscellaneous shower complimenting Mrs. Donald Spotts, the former Elizabeth Chronister. Devotions will be in charge of Mrs. Pearl Canode. Study program leader, Mrs. Ada Hoy. Topic, "Christian Leadership Among Women in Latin America".

The supper committee with Mrs. Evelyn Shoemaker as chairman, are busy with plans for the annual chicken supper, which will be held on Thursday evening, October 15. They find that the church dish towels are wearing out, as such things have a way of doing, and are sponsoring a "dish-towel shower", asking each W. S. C. S. member or any other woman of the church to contribute one dish towel and bring it to the meeting Thursday. Those who are unable to be present may give their directly to the chairman.

The president, Mrs. Jule Baker, is requesting that those who have not already done so, will bring their emergency gift envelopes to the meeting.

School News—Student Council

At its organization meeting, this body elected for its president, Dean Shippert and Frances Spangler for secretary. Plans are under way for an all-school party at which time the freshman class will be initiated. This will be held on the evening of October 2. Committees appointed are:

Refreshments—Arlene Thompson, chairman; Janet Howard, Darlene Fair, Mary Torti, Miss Bell.

Entertainment—Bud Howard, chairman; Maurice Heckman, Wayne Shaulis, Wallace Karper, Mr. O'Hara.

Besides planning for this party the students Council has been working with the faculty and superintendent in establishing policies and regulations for governing student conduct in and around the buildings.

The Girls Athletic association of 1942-43 has met and organized with a membership of 18. The new officers have taken charge and are:

President, Jackie Canode; vice president, Geraldine Brown; secretary-treasurer, Norma Erbes; advisor, Miss Metz.

A Wiener roast is being held for all the high school girls on Wednesday of this week, September 23, in the afternoon. Plans are being made for a play-day on October 17.

At the last meeting of the senior class suggestions were made and discussed on ways and means for improving conditions regarding use of school buildings, etc. Recommendations were passed and sent on to the Student Council for consideration.
Seniors are also thinking about their play which is to come off some time in the early part of November. Miss Rapp, who will have charge of directing the play has not yet made the selection of characters.

The Junior class is preparing for a Halloween party in the gymnasium which will be held around the last of next month. Committees have been chosen as follows:

Entertainment—Gerald Brown, Arlene Thompson.
Concessions—Janice Watson, Alberta Benoodt.
Decorations—Betty McDivitt, Wayne Shaulis, Darlene Fair.
Doorman—Arlene Ives.
Records—Jackie Canode.

The freshman class under the sponsorship of Miss Rapp has been actively engaged in making recommendations to the Student Council on ways to improve conditions within the school. This class had charge of the popcorn sale at the baseball game with Lee Center last week.

The Future Farmers of the Franklin Grove chapter met on Sept. 17 for the election of officers. Those elected were:
President—Robert Torti; vice president—Dean Shippert; secretary—Gerald Smith; treasurer—Theodore Bennett; reporter—Wayne Shaulis; watch dog—Richard Scharpf.

In the return basketball game with Lee Center, played on the home field last Friday, Franklin Grove succeeded in evening the series. The second inning started with Shaulis and Brown going down on infield flies. With two out, the whole team batted around to score a total of seven runs. Although they scored no more during the entire game, these were ample to win over Lee Center's three runs.

Families Asked to Set Extra Place at Table on Thanksgiving Day

Chicago, Sept. 26—(AP)—The Advertising Managers Club of Chicago wants every family in the United States to set an extra place at its Thanksgiving dinner table—for a soldier, sailor, marine or coast-guardsmen away from home.

Herbert T. Webb of the club said today several large business firms, trade associations and clubs had expressed interest in the idea and promised to help promote the campaign on a nationwide scale.

Governors of the states were asked to lend their aid to the movement and so far 11 have pledged whole-hearted support, Webb reported.
